

CURRENCY OF TIME.

Everyone remains a prisoner of time until they come to the realisation that they are indeed stationed in this parking spot.

The escape route only becomes possible when this is accepted as a fact.

Think of it this way and then allow yourself to digest it all.

From the time a child is born until they are done with the education system they are conditioned to believe that time is not their own.

Time is something that needs to be filled with tasks. These tasks then create the building blocks for an admittance to a bigger time prison.

Parents spend their days preparing us all in our early years. They believe that there is no doubt we need to be ready for the school system's framework very soon.

The scramble begins: reading us bedtime stories and trying to teach us our numbers and letters. Eventually the years pass by and it is time for either day care or kindergarten.

It all flies by in one big swoop and the next thing you know it is time for college and university. The world beckons and the real race is on, now everything counts on getting that good job and showing up day in day out.

What if it was discovered that this was all an illusion and that everything did not count on landing that good job.

What if we were taught to understand that time is the most valuable currency of wealth that we are all born with?

What if more time was spent teaching us from an early age that we need to discover what we are good at?

What if every day our parents asked us this one question?

It is a popular one: “What do you want to be when you grow up”?

What if every day our parents spent about 30 minutes asking us to work on the answer to this most popular of questions? Then what if it was made such a popular question that it was a part of the day, every single day?

We know that at a young age the answer received may often change. It may be a different one every week or month. Even at an older age it may change.

What if we were asked how we would go about accomplishing this wish of ours?

What if we walked through the steps with our parents and they knew to lovingly force us to map out how this would all transpire, assisting us to think through very methodically how it would come to fruition?

You see the most valuable thing we are all given right from birth is the gift of time. We all start out on a level playing field, illnesses aside of course.

This special gift makes us all wealthy right out of the gate. It is the single most powerful currency of wealth on planet earth and perhaps the entire universe, galaxies and solar systems. It is a wealth currency that has nothing to do with financial wealth but how we use it can guide us towards financial wealth and spiritual elation, (true happiness).

Now I will go back to the question and mapping it all out. Stay with me here because I am leading up to an impactful point that will forever change how you see things, it will change all for the better.

When we are asked the question of, “how would we go about doing this”, this referring to the mechanics that would lead up to accomplishing our goal this would force us to think out of the box. It is only out of the box thinking because it is new to us. It is beyond the day to day staples that society uses as a template for everyone as they mature.

What it does do is it begins to condition our minds at a young age. It begins to embed with in us that so long as we are willing to think about making what we perceive as the impossible become possible it can be our reality.

Ever wonder why the common, “thank god it’s Friday” is so popular? You may believe it is because everyone or at least most people are happy the work week or school week is over.

The underlying truth here is not about that. It is all about “TIME”.

It is a veiled way of expressing gratitude for being handed back control of our time! The worst part is that most do not even realize this, they have no idea!

The people that do not use that saying are few and are also some of the lucky ones.

They have figured out how to be the master of their own day to day time.

There is no need for it to be handed back to them. They already control it and have the firmest of grips on their spiritual elation and or the potential of it.

They likely have command of their weekly day to day as well and are part of the financially free and or wealthy.

There is no need for them to ever express inwardly or outwardly, “thank God it’s Friday”.

For them any day can feel like a weekend if they so choose!

They got to this state of mindset from discovering and understanding that, “TIME”, is the vault which contains infinite possibilities so long as it is leveraged correctly!

How could something that is free and plentiful for everyone right out of the gate be so over looked by most?

It is quite simple and is also the root of all failures and short falls in almost all cases. It is the mismanagement of time that is at the heart of it all.

But how could this be and why would it happen, how could it slip by so many and still, all along, while being in plain sight? How terrible and wasteful, it is bordering on a cruel occurrence!

It is the fault of our parents and their parents, the buck starts and stops there! It is something that was unbeknownst to them. Not done out of malice not done intentionally but never the less it occurred.

I make this statement not with an intent to cast blame. It is only to illustrate a cause for the eventual effect.

As part of the human condition it is required by us all that we are clearly shown a point of origin with most things. This enables us, arms us to maximize our ability to then become able to better internalize what we are being served.

Consider that even though what I am writing is not a five star feast it is that type of quality in the form of an observation which has been produced for your intellectual consumption. The fork and knife are your eyes. Your digestive system at play here is of course, your mind.

That is why I use the term, “being served”. Most things that we experience, regardless of form, physical event or literary is for our consumption in one way or another.

When we brush our teeth, we do it not for the act of the brushing it is for the desired result. We want to have healthy teeth which stand the test of time!

The brush is not the desire it is simply the instrument you leverage to march towards your end goal.

We understand that the toothbrush makes the tooth paste most effective.

Time is our toothbrush which we need to leverage in the correct manner, the add on, how we use time is the toothpaste.

The combination of the two delivers the optimum result.

The desire for healthy teeth is in this case having the mastery of your own time.

If the relationship between the three is broken and or misunderstood. We cannot achieve our end goal successfully.

Leveraging Time's Accessories/Tools.

Let us get back to it now so that we may connect all the pertinent dots that are involved in this specific observation of time.

Below are a couple of examples in regards to “time” but the method applies to many instances and is of course not limited to just the ones which are mentioned.

FACT: 90% of all American workers do NOT own their own business. They are not in charge of their own CURRENCY OF TIME.

YOU have already DECIDED to lean towards being part of the 10% by choosing to read this material.

There are only generals and soldiers in the economic fabric of our society.

The generals are part of the 10% and the soldiers are part of the 90%.

BOTH depend on each other. Without this very dynamic EVERYBODY will taste failure. there is no economic equilibrium. It would render the possibility of success to become permanently dormant.

Far WORSE than experiencing failure is not being able to even attempt to experience success. Without the economic structure of the 90% and 10% there cannot even be an attempt by anyone! Anarchy would be in charge and in full swing.

ATTEMPT IS THE WOMB OF SUCCESS, FAILURE IS ALSO THE WOMB OF SUCCESS.

The greatest successes were arrived at from the clutches of failure. Attempt is always the root of all great things that are accomplished.

OK. It is time for us to get to the nitty gritty of leveraging time's accessories and tools, so let us dive right into these deep blue waters right now!

The soldiers choose the band aid and just soldier on with their wounds.

YOU are choosing to be a GENERAL and this means you reject the band aid and opt for surgery.

We now need to OPERATE on YOU, your "TIME" status/condition.

The purpose of the page before this one and what is above this paragraph on this page is to illustrate to you that I do understand you and where you are at. It is also for clearly mapping where you are in the landscape of the economical model, your new identity and deeper understanding which you are on the cusp of gleaning.

Finding and starting your own internet business is about steps. Like everything else there are building blocks involved.

It does not matter if you are already involved in a business or are looking to get involved, if you are not aware of this one main fact you will assure yourself a failure.

It is not income you are looking for, you are seeking "TIME MASTERY". The income can then follow once you have control.

JUST LIKE the toothbrush and the tooth paste you must understand the tools involved, the pieces that must work together so you can achieve your goal.

You will first need to get more time out of your day to day. I will show you how to do this right now.

You NEED to give something up, watching TV or spending time with people that have nothing positive to offer you is a good place to start.

Think about how much time you spend every week with either of those two scenarios. Am I telling you to never watch TV again and never be social? NO!

I am however being brutally honest so you can benefit and be in the position needed to become an ACTIVE General.

MOST EVERYONE spends over 30 hours a week watching TV, the average American spends more than this. This is not my opinion it is a statistical FACT! (reference Nielsen ratings)

Now let's examine why it is that most people decide to do this.

It is a form of escape it allows people to become distracted from their day to day lives so they can forget and obtain a release. It accomplishes this but also leaves you where you were before you started watching. It solves/changes nothing 100% of the time.

Spending time with people that are negative and or of no benefit to you.

DO NOT MISUNDERSTAND this one, what I mean by benefit is that time spent needs to be mutually beneficial. Of no benefit to you means that it is not mutually beneficial.

If the people you spend time with are negative and always seem to have some disaster brewing or are immersed in one this will eventually cascade over to you. If not literally then figuratively.

There is a difference between helping people which is ALWAYS a great thing and immersing yourself with daily, weekly, monthly and yearly time spent.

Whether you feel it or not this becomes emotionally draining and will come back to cause you harm. I can go into a lot more detail with the last couple of paragraphs but that is for another time, another E-book.

In short we eventually become like who we choose to surround ourselves with and this can sabotage reaching our true potential.

Commit to corrections for income injections. Time was taught to us all wrong now there needs to be a trade-off to make things right.

Let's assume that you just cut your TV time in half. In most cases that will give you 10-15 hours a week. This could also be, "leisure" internet time: playing games or just using the web as you would your TV.

Did you know that even 5 hours a week is enough to gain traction in an online business? IT IS!

But it will take longer to glean results at 5 hours a week because your momentum velocity requires an accumulation of time to build strength. This also rings true for your own mastering of methods which you need to accomplish.

It boils down to how thirsty you are in terms of seeing results. If you want them sooner then you will leverage more time, if you are not in a hurry then less time is leveraged.

IT IS IN YOUR CONTROL! What type of trade off will you make to leverage time?

REMEMER: COMMIT TO CORRECTIONS FOR INCOME INJECTIONS.

IF FOR SOME REASON you do not want to commit to the correction because your subconscious is sneaking up behind you out of fear and panic, you need to ask yourself one thing, “if nothing in my life changes and all remains the same will things be as I want them to be?”

If the answer is NO be PROUD of yourself! You have the solution it has found its way to you and you to it.

This old saying rings true every single time in this situation; “if you are seeking different results start taking different actions”.

Time is the single most important weapon we need to understand deeply to begin traveling the road towards Entrepreneurship, successfully.

Once you have that sorted out you can begin to experience what it is to truly be an ONLINE GENERAL!

TIME the meaning of it and how to NAVIGATE IT has been embedded into us the WRONG way. It was done over a period of decades. You now have the chance to SQUASH decades of misinformation in hours! (how is that for positive irony?)

Just begin to apply what I have provided in this content. It is the foundation of your success as an Entrepreneur. It is THE ONLY first step to take. The purpose is of course obtaining, CEMENTING the delivery of YOUR DESIRES!

By now you should feel that you have a different perspective in terms of how you perceive time and how you can prosper from its “manipulation dynamic”!

Feel free to get in touch with me and share your comments and or questions. There will be much more to come. We have only just dipped our toe into the waters of the Income Incubator!

YOU HAVE NOW COMPLETED

VOLUME 1 “CURRENCY OF TIME”.

Success is built on a lot of individual building blocks. You now have proper access to the very first one.
